Clark-Moores Middle School School-Based Decision Making Council Instructional Practices Policy

School staff, in collaboration with the Principal, shall select the appropriate instructional practices to be utilized in their classroom. Factors included in the selection of instructional practice include, but are not limited to: Student engagement, growth of the individual learner, differentiation of instruction, and rigor/relevance. In the event an instructional practice is questioned by a student, parent, or another teacher, the parties involved are to present their concerns to the Curriculum Committee. The Committee may then present a recommendation to the School Council for their consideration and approval.
